- LOCATION: Seven Canyons is a private golf course in Sedona, AZ, open exclusively to club members and guests of Enchantment Resort. The high desert course sits at 4,600 feet elevation. Magnificently sited on 200 acres with 360-degree views of red rock canyons, the fairways are bordered by more than 100,000 acres of the Coconino National Forest and the Red Rock-Secret Mountain Wilderness.
- Most major airlines service Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport, 110 miles south of Sedona and a two-hour drive from the resort. Nearby Sedona airport can accommodate smaller business jets and aircraft.
- ARCHITECT Tom Weiskopf designed the course, which opened in 2003. Widely known for having the most elegant swing in golf; Weiskopf spent more than 30 years on the PGA and Senior PGA Tours. He accrued over 25 PGA and international victories during his career, including a British Open victory in 1973 and a Senior U.S. Open Championship in 1995. The following year he was named “Golf Architect of the Year” by Golf World magazine.
- DESIGN The unique layout of Seven Canyons allowed Tom Weiskopf to design a traditional-style, par 70 course measuring 6,746 yards, a throwback to the great courses built around the turn of the 20th century. Small greens, subtle contours, narrow landing areas, natural water features, classic-style bunkers and constantly changing elevations help emphasize shot making while mature trees, stone bridges and stone tee boxes are reminiscent of Old World courses. This is a challenging and rewarding course designed with great strategy and style.
- GRASS: Greens: A4 bent greens
Fairways, Roughs, Tees: Midnight Blue and Rye
- HISTORY: Seven Canyons opened in 2003 as a private golf club and residential community. In 2013, Seven Canyons was acquired by Northlight Financial Services LLC., who appointed Enchantment Group to manage the facility and guide its restoration. Seven Canyons has been acclaimed as one of “America’s Greatest Golf Retreats” by Golf Digest Index and one of the “Top 100 Modern Courses” by Golfweek magazine. Golfweek also ranked it among their “Best Residential Courses” in 2014.
